

These templates are designed so that they bleed off the side of the page. When you print them, make sure you don't resize them ("scale to page") even if you get a warning that a portion of the page is not "printable."

We did this because some printers default to a half-inch margin and others to a quarter-inch margin, and we have no idea what it's like across the pond for those of you using A4.

Just print at 100% and it will all work out, we promise.

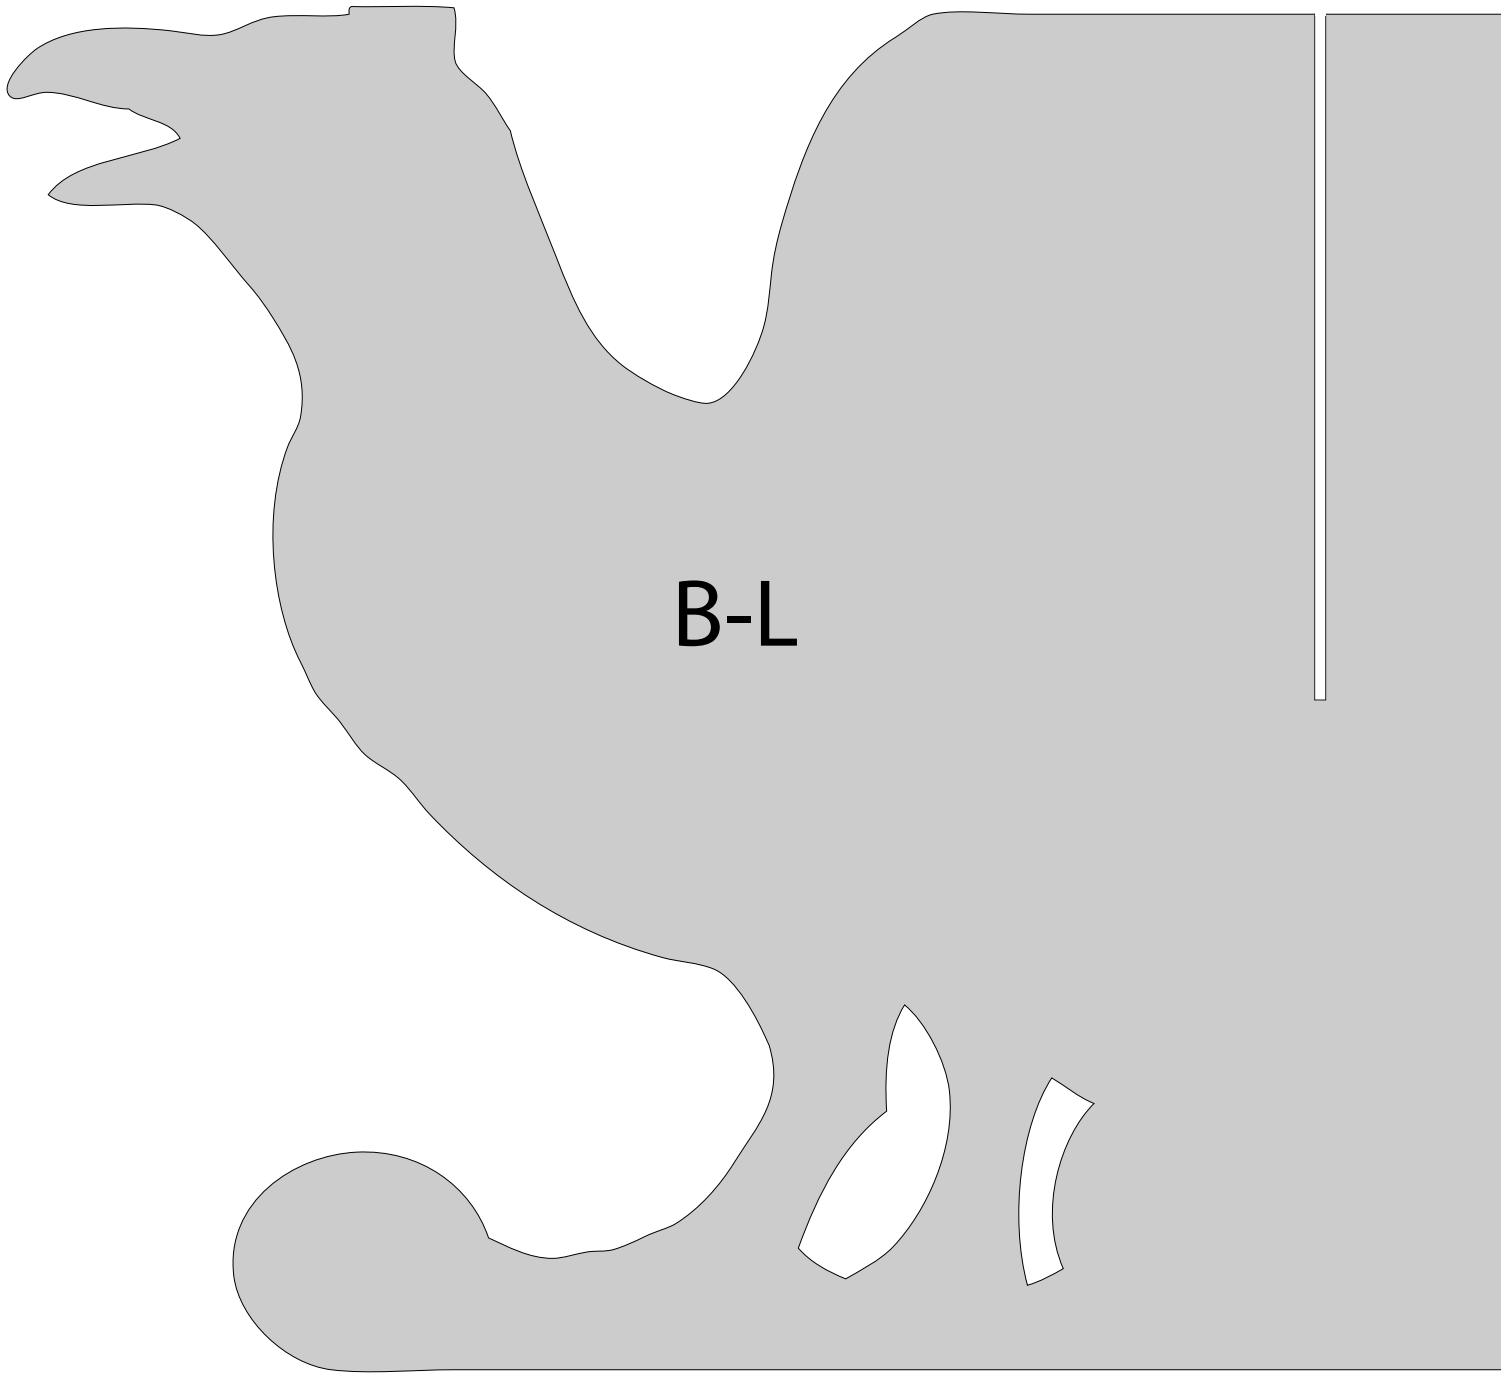

Raven Template A-L

Cut out this template and line it up with the cut of of Raven Template A-R to get the full Raven Template A.

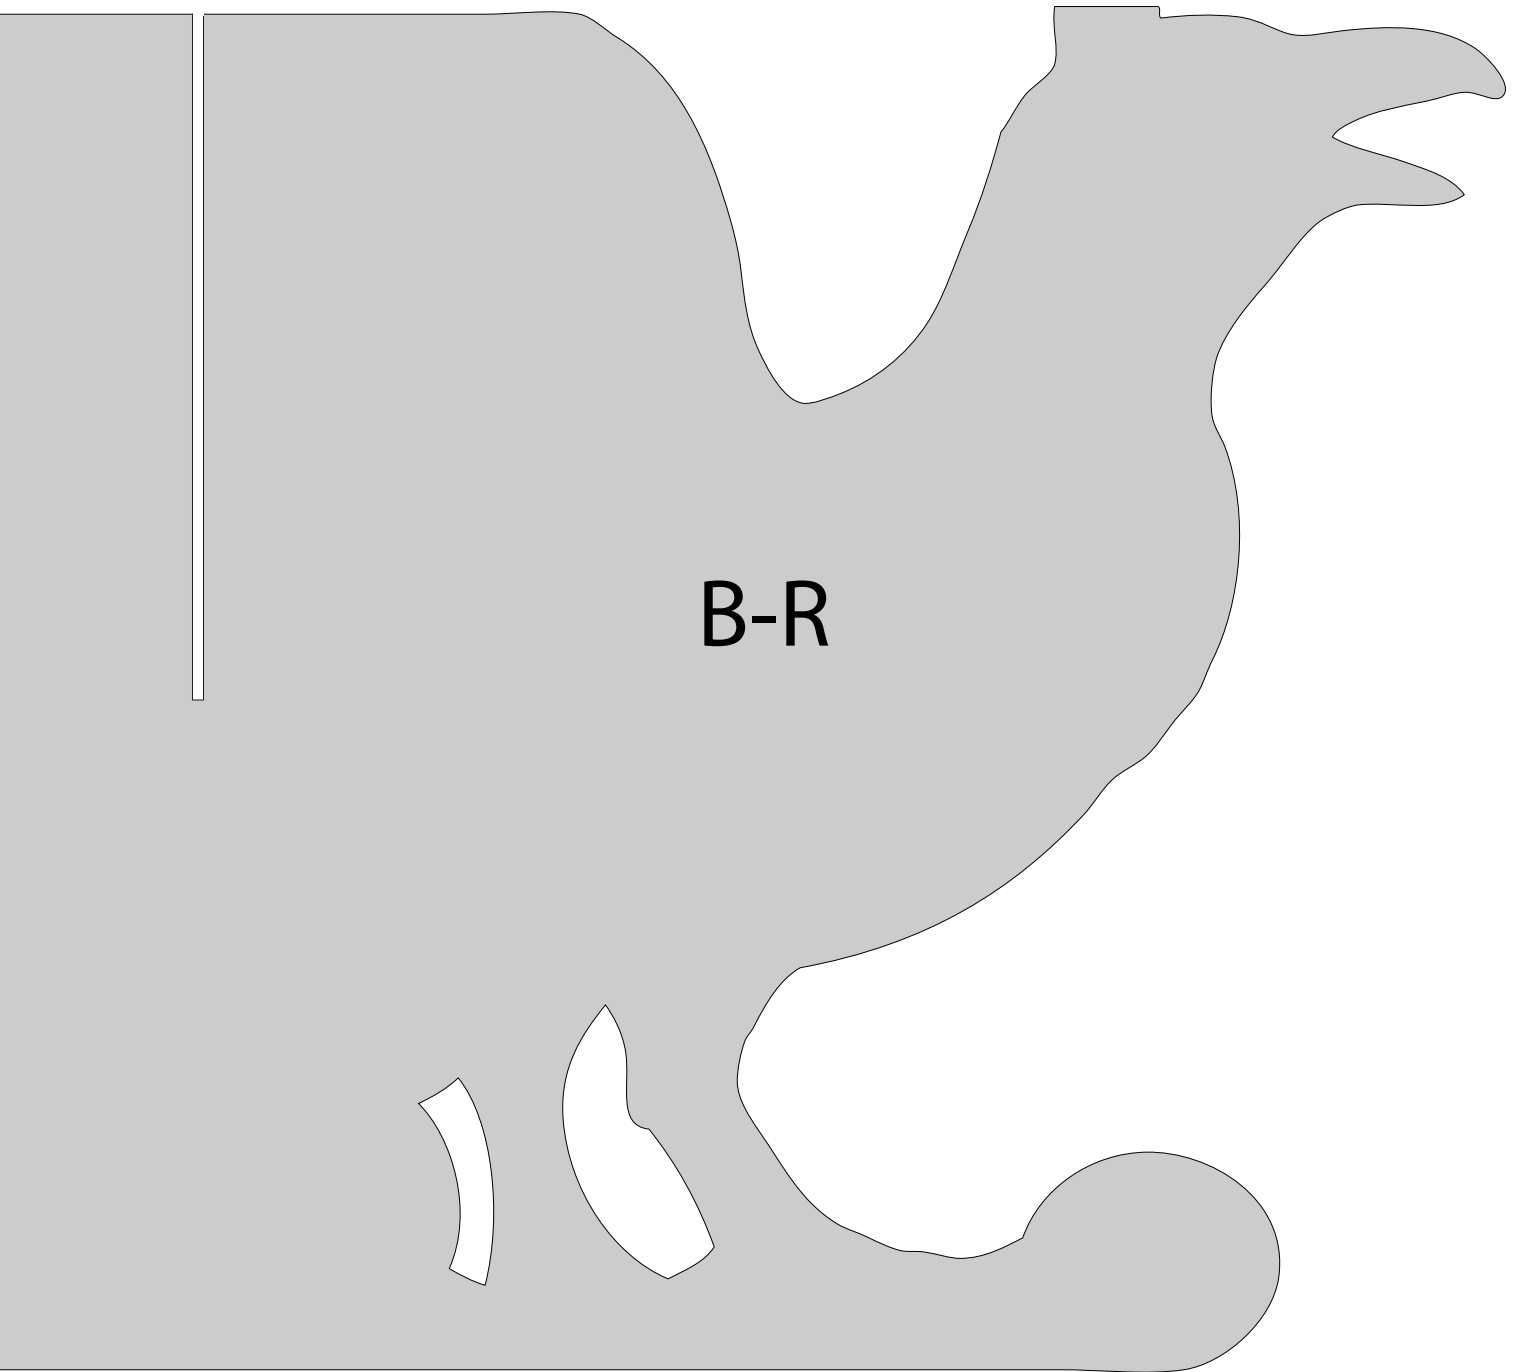

Raven Template A-R

Cut out this template and line it up with the cut of of Raven Template A-L to get the full Raven Template A.

Raven Template B-L

Cut out this template and line it up with the cut of of Raven Template B-R to get the full Raven Template B.

Raven Template B-R

Cut out this template and line it up with the cut of of Raven Template B-L to get the full Raven Template B.